

Self-Guided Tour

September 11 - 25, 2021

Rooted in Art is a tree appreciation initiative that is intended to celebrate the importance and beauty of Charlottetown's urban forest. Six Island artists have used some of Charlottetown's beautiful trees as inspiration for a series of temporary art installations. Follow this 1.7km self-guided tour to experience all six installations and to learn more about the trees and artists involved! Don't forget to check out our in-person Rooted in Art event happening on Sunday, September 19 from 2-4p.m. in King's Square!

Keep an eye out while taking the tour (and make sure you're walking on the side of the road indicated by the arrows) - you may find some magical surprises hidden amongst the other trees on the route!
